STAT

Dear

Please forgive the long delay in answering your letter, but it has been a busy spring and I have been off on active duty. In the meantime, however, I have shown your papers to a number of people and discussed some of your ideas. There is one group in particular that is most anxious to talk to you. If I remember correctly, you were planning to come to Washington sometime this month. Please be sure and let me know when you arrive and if possible save enough time to do some leisurely talking about computers and related problems.

It was a pleasure to talk to you and read about your ideas. It isn't very often that somebody with your background walks in on us.

Sincerely,

William A. Tidwell
